Feeding Green Cut Bone Pays.

Mr. A. F. Hunter, who is one of the regular contributors to the New England Farmer, not long ago said in the columns of that paper: "Feeding fresh cut bone to fowls, to induce abundant laying, has proved a decidedly profitable thing. The bones are rich in animal matter and contain lime, of which the egg shell is made, and hens fed on fresh cut bone will lay a larger number of eggs than if fed no bone. Not only will they lay a larger number of eggs, but the eggs will be stronger-bodied, will be better eggs, and if incubated will have better and stronger chicks." C. S. Page of Hyde Park, Vt., on receipt of $3.50 will forward to anyone a 200-pound barrel of Green Cut Bone, prepaying railroad freight to any place in New England or New York.

Cross Petition Filed.

Rutland, Feb. 2.—The state board of railroad commissioners adjourned their hearing today, in the petition of the citizens of this city for gates at the four local crossings. The board heard a cross petition from the Rutland railroad that the D. & H. and Rutland street railway be made to help stand the expense. Judge H. H. Powers, counsel for the Rutland railroad charged F. M. Butler, representing the street railway when at a former hearing when ostensibly counsel for the citizens that he, Butler, denied that the railway had anything to do with presenting the petition to the city attorney, Lawrence.

The city will not pay one cent. The D. & H. railroad is willing to stand half.

SWINDLED
OUT OF $48,000

Bank President Is Easily Duped

BY CONFIDENCE MEN

James Spear, Canton, N. Y., Buys Worthless Stock as Gift Edged Property Through a Gang of Clever Swindlers.

New York, Feb. 3.—James Spear, the president of the St. Lawrence County bank in Canton, N. Y., has been swindled out of $48,000 in cash by one of the cleverest bands of confidence men New York has ever turned out. These swindlers are operating extensively throughout the state, and are said to have branch headquarters in Boston and Philadelphia. Their stock in trade consists of various mining stocks.

Bank President Spear is looked upon as one of the shrewdest business men in the upper part of the state. He has large lumber interests in the Adirondacks, and is said to be worth at least $300,000.

One of Spear's business acquaintances has been a man named Mooney, who is well known in certain circles in Wall street. Mooney called up Spear by telephone from Ogdensburg and told him he had a gift-edged proposition to lay before him. Spear replied that he had made all arrangements to leave with his wife for Florida that very evening, and did not wish to be bothered with business until his return. Spear was surprised a few hours later, upon reaching Watertown in the New York sleeper, to see Mooney and another man enter the car. The companion of Mooney was Walter McBride, a man of many aliases. Mooney introduced McBride to Spear as a New York broker, and the weaving of the spider's web began.

The conspirators told Spear that there was on the market a quantity of Gold Temple Cripple Creek mining stock which had but recently become valuable because of the discovery of a rich vein of ore. The stock, they said, they said, from 80 cents a share up to $1.50 and threatened to go even higher.

"My friend McBride," said Mooney to Spear, "has a cousin who is a stenographer in the home office of the mining company at Denver. This cousin informed him several weeks ago that there were 50,000 shares of stock in the possession of an old Scotchman who had been a miner and who in all probability would not know of its true value. McBride has been on the trail of this Scotchman and has just succeeded in locating him in the little town of Fraser, Colo. He has talked with the man, who is willing to sell his 50,000 shares at 50 cents. If we can raise $48,000 at once we can more than double it inside of 24 hours."

Spear was so interested that he left his wife in New York the following day and went with Mooney and McBride to Philadelphia. There he was taken to the offices of the consolidated exchange and introduced to A. A. Hayden, the secretary. In response to inquiries, it is alleged that Hayden said that the stock had recently been selling for $1.80.

The party went to Prescott, and Mooney and Spear waited at the hotel, while McBride went out to get the Scotchman. The latter proved to be a typical miner in appearance, and acted well his part. The deal was quickly made, Spear receiving the 50,000 shares of stock and in return gave the Scotchman his $48,000. Then Spear, Mooney and McBride set out for Philadelphia by way of New York.

Spear gave Mooney and McBride 20,000 shares of the stock for their portion in the deal and instructed Alexander J. Halter, who acted as the transfer agent of the stock in Philadelphia, to send the remaining 40,000 shares to Denver for transfer on the company's books in his name. He still has Halter's receipt for the 40,000 shares of stock, which he now finds to be utterly worthless.

THE PLAN TRUTH

What More Can Barre People Ask Than the Plain Truth?

When well known residents and highly respected people of Barre make such statements as the following, it must carry convictions to every reader:

Alvin F. Smith, retired, living at 19 West street, Barre, Vt., says: "I have never relapsed into the desperate condition that Doan's Kidney Pills rescued me from eight years ago. I told in a public statement at that time what Doan's Kidney Pills had done for me and every word was true. When one is well up in years and suffers terribly from pains across the back which are especially bad when stooping over, and a remedy is found which brings positive relief, it is no wonder that he should recommend it to others. Doan's Kidney Pills, sold at E. A. Drown's drug store, brought me prompt relief from my trouble, and although during the years which have elapsed I have had other attacks, I have always used Doan's Kidney Pills at such time and never in vain. Of course, I hardly expect an absolute cure, but I can certainly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone in need of such a medicine."

"For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other."
